Lubricant Company Launches Premium Quality, Fully-Synthetic Paintball Gun Oil

New Orleans – C and C Synthetics, a newly formed company for lubricants, announces the introduction of OUTLAST™. The lubricant is premium fully-synthetic oil that is specially formulated for use in paintball guns. The original formulation was made in 1991 by Kermode Concepts, known as K-C Trouble Free. To meet the demands of the evolution of paintball markers, the formula has been changed eight times since 1991. The characteristics of the synthetic oil far exceed any paintball oil to date. In mid-2009, C and C Synthetics acquired K-C Trouble Free.

"We sought out to find the best lubricant when we opened our paintball field business in 2001," explained Charles Segrave. "After testing almost everything on the market, we felt let down until we discovered K-C Trouble Free. The benefits included the following characteristics: non-toxic, food grade, anti-corrosive, anti-static, 100% synthetic, specifically made for paintball, and does not produce the sludge found by using most paintball lubricants. By using this lubricant, you will extend the life of o-rings significantly. Most of my rental guns at our paintball field still have the same o-rings after 5 years of use! When Dave Kermode of Kermode Concepts offered us K-C Trouble Free, we jumped at the opportunity to represent the best lubrication in the paintball industry."

Charles Segrave, co-owner of C and C Synthetics, is a PTI certified air smith and has a background in metal industries, such as foundries, fabrication and machine shops, and some gunsmithing, Segrave said, "I have a great interest in the mechanics of paintball markers and a low tolerance for products of poor quality".

The new label of OUTLAST™ is the only thing changed for this lubricant. There are no plans to change the formula. It surpasses all other paintball oil currently on the market.
